

THANK YOU PRO SPORTS CHALLENGE XIII CONTRIBUTORS

Ever changing weather did not stop the momentum Saturday, June 26 as three hundred corporate athletes marched onto the field at Westhill High School in Stamford to compete in Pro Sports Challenge XIII. Great spirit and positive attitudes prevailed throughout a day of fun, competition and laughter. Commissioner Peter O'Meara of the Department of Mental Retardation thanked participants and volunteers for helping people with developmental disabilities. Storm the Mascot from the Sound Tigers and the Harlem Magic Masters were highlights of the day. In the awards ceremony following the event, Chairman Steve Levine presented a check for $100,000 to Parents & Friends of Lower Fairfield in Norwalk to enhance life for their residents who have mental retardation. Another highlight of the day was Broadway Star, Emily Hall, singing the National Anthem.

A thunderous cheer arose for the hopeful participants who were Michael Korn from the Thomson Corporation, Michael Brachlow from Oxford Health Plans, Matt Karpowich from Alliance Benefit Solution and Jennifer Avery from Carrier Northeast. Unfortunately no one was successful in their shots this year. Maybe next year!
